NZTTMF Member Since: 2000

Jackson Enterprises has its origins in stock transportation. Stock still forms a large and important part of this Pahiataua-based business. In fact, that is its specialisation. Jackson Enterprises is New Zealand's leading manufacturer of alloy monocoque stock trailers. However, these days the company, started and still managed by Trevor Jackson, has grown to be much more. These days Jackson Enterprises produces Curtainsiders, tipping units, heavy transporters, hardsiders and—with a proficient design team aboard—every kind of specialist unit imaginable. As well as its manufacturing, the company offers full workshop facilities for repairs, refurbishments and modifications. It even has a weighbridge on-site. Over its 25-plus years, the company has earned a reputation for quality and innovation. It is among very few companies in New Zealand to have mastered the alloy chassis for customers chasing a lower tare weight without compromising strength or durability. Trevor Jackson and his team take particular pride in what they describe as a “rural can-do” attitude and values. It means they have developed the dual technique of knowing the work environment they are supplying and working with customers to deliver exactly what they need. It is that technique, Trevor says, that has enabled Jackson Enterprises to develop a strong and long-standing customer base. It is this commitment to quality and personal involvement by Trevor that has earned Jackson Enterprises its region-wide reputation as the “go-to” trailer specialists.
